

New Treatment Available

For Workers Comp Injuries

At Charleston Sports Medicine, providing the best medical care and supporting your efforts to get employees back to work quickly is our goal. We strive to offer the most advanced, evidence based treatment options to help restore patients to full productivity in a cost effective manner. We are now offering an exciting new outpatient procedure specially designed for those who are suffering from pain associated with tendon damage due to repetitive stress and/or overuse.

Tendon pain takes many forms:

- Plantar fasciitis
- Achilles tendonitis
- Jumper's / Runner's knee
- Tennis / Golfer's elbow

Your employees have probably tried many things to get back to work: Physical Therapy, Cortisone Injections, Medications or just rest. These may provide temporary relief, but many times the pain comes back and surgery is not appealing due to costs, potential risks and a long recovery period. We can help!

Did You Know...

$72 billion is spent annually on tendon related injuries in workers compensation

$1.4 billion is spent annually on narcotics for pain in workers compensation

80% of workers compensation dollars are spent on repetitive stress injuries

11-14 work weeks are lost due to repetitive stress injuries

Tendonosis Treatments

Tenex Health TX™ is based on advanced technology developed in collaboration with the world renowned Mayo Clinic. Tenex Health TX™ combines ultrasound imaging to pinpoint damaged tissue with the advanced TX MicroTip™ which precisely breaks down and removes only the damaged tissue that causes pain. This procedure is not invasive open surgery and can be performed in an office or procedure room.

Tenex Health TX™ benefits:

- Quick pain relief
- Return to normal activities rapidly
- Local anesthetic used instead of general anesthesia
- No sutures, no stitches (requires only a small adhesive bandage)
- Not open surgery

Please call our office and let us be a definitive solution for getting your employees back to work quickly and cost effectively.
